MATCO TOOLS TO OFFER 'TOOL OF THE RACE' PROMO DISCOUNT AROUND NHRA U.S. NATIONALS

The tool industry leader will feature 108COMBO from its popular Infinium line of cordless impact tools.

STOW, Ohio (Sept. 1, 2010) - Matco Tools, a manufacturer and distributor of quality professional automotive equipment, tools and toolboxes, will offer a 'Tool of the Race' promo coinciding with the prestigious U.S. Nationals, Sept. 1-6, at O'Reilly Raceway Park at Indianapolis. The flagship sponsor of 24-time NHRA winner Antron Brown, driver of the Matco Tools/U.S. Army dragster, will feature its 108COMBO, a ¼" 10.8-volt impact wrench, screwdriver and flashlight set with lithium ion technology, as a special 'Tool of the Race' discount around NHRA drag racing's marquee event.

The 108COMBO is one of the hottest tools on the market and features the new ¼" impact wrench that uses the same 10.8-volt lithium battery that also runs five others tools in the same voltage. Matco's latest addition to its Infinium line of cordless impact tools is one of the smallest impact wrenches on the market today. At just over 7-inches tall and 5-inches long, the ¼" drive impact offers class-leading output reaching 55-foot pounds of working torque.

"Our Matco Tools Top Fuel team and all the DSR nitro teams just love the Infinium line of impact tools," driver Antron Brown said. "When our crew members service the engines after a run, having reliable cordless tools is crucial to our technicians in turning around our race car in 75 minutes, and these Infinium tools are flawless. They're consistent and powerful and the best tools in the business come from Matco Tools."
